WE NOMINATE

William Frederick Stohlman, a confirmed Princetonian for some four decades and long a tradition in senior-class questionnaires pertaining to the University Faculty, who as of July 1st joined the ranks of retired university professors. While some of his colleagues have established international reputations as scholars, and others have won notices with their series of publications, this 68-year old native of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been recognized—even by hypercritical juniors and seniors writing "course evaluations" for the benefit of oncoming underclassmen—as "one of our very best," as a teacher capable of making his courses "distinct successes" for all enrolled in them.

Like many exceptional teachers, Stohlman did not enter the profession of teaching and scholarship upon completing his college studies. A member of the distinguished Princeton Class of 1909, that numbered among others Harold Medina, Samuel Shellabarger, Bayard Dodge and Norman Armour, he was at first associated with a manufacturing firm and "made the break" in 1916 when he enrolled here in the Graduate School. Earlier he had concentrated in History, Economics and Politics but his lifelong interests in languages and the arts inevitably led him into Art and Archaeology, the area in which he has since gained renown as the Class of 1909's "super-expert in enamels and stained glass windows."

Stohlman, an excellent linguist with a fluent command of French and German and a sound knowledge of Italian and Spanish, was commissioned in the World War I Army's Corps of Interpreters. He trained in Maryland, held forth with the American Expeditionary Force as an early analyst of aerial photographs and in the climactic stages of the war was aide-de-camp to the Commanding General of the First Infantry Division. He combined his duties in the Army of Occupation with study at French institutions and came back to civilian life in 1919—to accept a Princeton fellowship and months later to receive his appointment to the University's Department of Art and Archaeology.

World War II brought another tour of overseas service and resulted in a profound change in Stohlman's way of life, a change infrequently contemplated by a "confirmed bachelor." It was during his association with the U. S. Information Service in Rome that he met his wife, then serving with the American Embassy in that capital. The Stohlmans were married in 1946 and are now the parents of two daughters, seven-year old Julie and four-year old Suzanne. In recent years Stohlman, a former officer of the College Art Association and a member of several learned societies, including the Medieval Academy and the Archaeological Institute, has been largely responsible for strengthening the University's Marquand Library that is widely known for its collections in the literature of Christian and medieval art.

For knowing that youth is always a state of mind and never a matter of years; for his infectious enthusiasm for everything bearing upon Princeton and its status as an educational center; for his rare understanding of the upcoming generation and of the ways in which it reacts to the trends of the moment; he is our nominee for

Dr. Oppenheimer to Resign? Repeated rumors that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer will resign as director of the Institute for Advanced Study broke into print this week in The New York Times. The possibility of such a move was indicated as part of the announcement that the Atomic Energy Commission had rejected, 4 to 1, his appeal for reinstatement as a Government adviser.

Under the by-line of James Reston, its Washington bureau chief, The Times carried the statement:

"It was generally assumed that, because his reliability, character and loyalty to the security regulations of the Government had been officially challenged, he would resign as director of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J., and be refused clearance on all allied Government atomic projects."

It was said unofficially at the Institute earlier this week that such a move on Dr. Oppenheimer's part would be a "complete surprise" to faculty members there, who have been outspoken in their support of the director. Announcement of his resignation, should it come, might be made from New York, the most likely location for a meeting of Institute's board of trustees.

The lone dissenting vote in the A.E.C. findings on Dr. Oppenheimer was cast by another well-known Princetonian, Dr. Henry DeWolf Smyth, who has been on leave of absence from the University's Department of Physics. Emphasizing his belief that Dr. Oppenheimer is "completely loyal," Dr. Smyth declared:

"In my opinion the most important evidence is the fact that there is no indication in the entire record that Dr. Oppenheimer has ever divulged any secret information." He added that failure to employ a man of such great talents in atomic research might impair the strength and power of the nation.

Reports were also current this week of Dr. Smyth's resignation from the Atomic Energy Commission. No official statement has been forthcoming, but he is expected to return to the University faculty this fall.

Wreckless or Reckless? Are 48 residents of New Jersey alive today because of a state-wide safety campaign to decrease death on the highways? Public awareness that the annual toll machines exact from man can be lessened is the greatest single weapon in the fight to prevent such bloodshed, and today there are indications that progress can be claimed.

The State Bureau of Traffic Safety has reported 368 lives were lost in New Jersey through motor vehicle accidents from January 1 to June 27, 1953. During the same period this year, when the number of miles driven was greater than ever before, 320 persons were killed. The state-wide campaign, combining increased police protection and constant newspaper publicity, is apparently to be credited with saving 48 lives in the first six months of the year.

On the eve of the three-day Fourth of July weekend, the plea for care and caution is being renewed. Conceivably the most pointed comment that can be made is to report that if fatalities of the last three-day holiday in July are duplicated, 19 lives will be lost in the State before Tuesday dawns.

While deaths in New Jersey are lower this year than last, Mercer County is not among

Gasoline Tax Up

Next time you buy ten gallons of gasoline for your car, it will cost you an extra dime. The state tax rose one cent a gallon this Thursday, July 1.

The revenue will be used partially for state aid to schools and partially for general budget purposes. Together with an increase of an extra one per cent on horse race bets and a jump in corporate franchise taxes from .8 to 2 mills, the funds are expected to total more than $20,000,000 annually. After 1955-56, the full amount will go to the state's school districts.

those contributing to the welcome trend. Twenty persons have met a violent and shattering end to their careers since last January, three more than a year ago.

The Princeton area has been a major factor (six so far—five of them on U. S. 1) not only in this county's total but is partially responsible for the increase of more than 100% recorded to date in nearby Somerset County. Of the 18 lives lost there — in contrast to eight a year ago — four met death in one splintering crash at the Route 206 intersection just north of Princeton Airport.

Five safety rules have been offered in the current campaign:

Control your speed; avoid following other cars too closely; refrain from driving when tired; avoid excessive passing; obey all traffic laws. The penalty for infractions ranges from severe fines to loss of life.

For a report on the driving habit of the typical motorist, and facts on the annual highway toll across the nation, see the latest New Jersey Poll, page 11.

World Conference Planned. Some 400 delegates from all parts of the earth will attend the World Presbyterian Alliance here this month. It will take place on the Princeton Theological Seminary campus from July 27 to August 5, the first such session of the Alliance since the Geneva meeting in 1948.

Delegates will represent the Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian System—65 in all, with a constituency variously estimated from 40 to more than 60 million persons. Next to the Lutheran churches (which can claim 68 million), it is the largest Protestant community in existence, and is by far the most widespread, being represented on every continent.

Daily sessions will be held on the Seminary campus, with evening services in the First Presbyterian Church. One large meeting in the Princeton University Chapel may also be scheduled.

In conjunction with the Alliance council, an auxiliary organization, the Women's International Union, will be in session here from July 28 to 30. Approximately 100 delegates to the women's union are expected, with the day-long program on July 29 open to all women of the community.

Bond Vote Likely. The state's voters will probably be asked at the November elections to approve a $25,000,000 bond issue to start a state medical-dental college.

The issue would be financed by a boost in the state tax on cigarettes. The state senate has approved a half-cent a pack increase, which in effect would be a full cent on single packs, while the assembly has approved a full cent aded levy.

Both houses have approved the issue once, but it was returned for a technical correction and the difference arose subsequently. No action will be taken until the legislature returns from vacation August 2.

Continued Story. Chapter II of a "hands-across-the-sea" story will be writen this month when Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Gemmell of Province Line Road welcome a 16-year old French girl into their home. She is Marie-Reine Lefevre, whose brother, Jean Claude, spent the summer of 1953 with the Gemmells.

It was during the later stages of World War II that Naval Lieutenant Gemmell (now Princeton University's administrative secretary) was billeted in Algiers, Africa, awaiting the landings on the southern coast of France. His hosts were a French family, the widow of a former Air Force pilot, and her two young children.

A year ago, Jean Claude was invited to partake of American hospitality. As the Gemmells' guest, he sampled the American way of life from two weeks at a boy scout camp to a tour of the nation's capital to the opening of the football season.

This summer, Marie-Reine will begin her visit here with a month's stay in a girls' camp in North Carolina. The following four weeks will be replete with sight-seeing in various parts of the east as the climax to an unusual two-family arrangement in international living.

Two Fires in Two Days. Two general alarms brought out the fire department on Sunday and Monday, both calling for extensive effort on the part of the fire-fighters.

On Sunday, a conflagration at the municipal dump kept the firemen busy for several hours.

It's New to Us

Cotton Blossoms . . . under the new secret Sanitone cleaning process they use now at University Laundry (30 Moore Street). Crisp, smooth summer cotton dresses are apt to be that way because the manufacturer has put in sizing, filler or special starches.

When you wash a cotton at home, or send it to the laundry along with pillowcases and handkerchiefs, it's likely to come home looking like a wilted rose. Home starching is usually unsatisfactory because it looks like just that: home starching.

The new Sanitone process is a dip that restores body to cotton without putting starch into it. Your dress, cleaned and processed in this manner, looks the way it did when you took it off the rack at the dress shop. You pay no more for this service, by the way.

Cotton Keeps Growing. Summer dresses keep coming in, new and fresh as Shasta daisies. Mary Gill at 290 Nassau has a large collection that spills over onto two extra racks.

You can pay $39.95 for the finest silk organza in powder blue, round and soft with little sleeves and deep neckline. Or you can save pennies on a $12.95 sailor dress, sleeveless with characteristic collar and small V-neck. The cotton is disciplined by Bates and it comes in navy, light blue or white, all with red kerchief.

Back in the $35 range, you'll find a nainsook cut on shirtwaist lines with bright green racing cars that are quite a surprise on such a sweet-and-girlish dress. The siren leopard has been tamed for summer and appears in a bright pink or aqua print for $14.95. The dress is a princess with shoulder bows and a back zipper.

Another princess dress has an empire top with scoop neck. Its fabric is a pima cotton in cherry.

Pink or blue check makes a sunny dress with narrow straps and square neck. White rickrack runs down the skirt to give a gored appearance. One horizontal tuck underlines the bodice and four rhinestone buttons punctuate the neck closing.

Sun dresses with their own jackets appear in seer-sucker, like the pink with buttons down the front, or the aqua made of Dan River Wrinkished cotton. It has straps and a bolero.

Other dresses on Mary Gill's hangers are sheer, like the dimity, with its cool green and yellow flowers ($10.95) or the dotted Swiss with full gathered skirt and sleeveless neck with shawl collar

Sports fans will like the two-piece rayon linen in pale pink or aqua. It consists of a halter that's a long bra or a blouse, depending on how long-waisted you are, and a pair of Bermudas. Top is $4.50, shorts are $5.50. We liked another pink short—comes in cord only and looks like strawberry ice cream.

Toreadors or sailcloth are brilliant red, navy or faded blue with white calf ties. For the top, why not try a terry shirt? Mary Gill has them in numerous styles and color combinations.

Turn Again, Turn Again. A rocking chair that swivels is the equivalent of an amusement park in your own living-room. The chair is meant to be a convenient accessory to T-Viewing, of course, but think of the fun your children will have, rocking back and forth and swirling around at the same time!

When you finally chase them away, you'll find that the chair is easy, comfortable Goodyear foam rubber with a gentle rock. It is on the floor at The Furniture Mart on the Somerville Road and we saw it in a small-patterned tapestry. You may have it in a different fabric if you choose. The price is $99.50.

A rocker in the old-fashioned manner is made of maple, either stained or painted black with gold design. Its arms are bare, (in the approved hot-weather manner) and its legs are modestly concealed by a pleated skirt that goes to the floor.

Its seat has a plump separate cushion. A separate back cushion hangs on the back-supports and gives you a rest for your head. The Mart has it for $39.95 in pictorial print.

Husbands and wives who argue about whether the bed is comfortable might investigate a two-way mattress at The Furniture Mart. It's standard one one side, extra-firm on the other. Worth $79.50 just to keep peace in the family.

The following day a fire in a six-family Birch Avenue dwelling brought out the entire department.

Fire Chief George Culligan estimated damage at $8,000 in the Birch Avenue blaze, which took approximately an hour to extinguish. The fire apparently started in a closet on the 1st floor of the three-story residence and burned through the roof.

The fire at the dump was brought under control rapidly but was the type which continues to burn for some days because of the material involved. It has resulted in the closing of the dump except during working hours.

I. Russell Riker, borough engineer, has notified both private and commercial refuse collectors that materials may be delivered to the incinerator and dump only between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on weekdays and 8 to 12 noon on Saturdays. The gates will be closed after hours and on Sundays and holidays.

Mr. Riker pointed out that too much combustible material has been placed on the dump, instead of being taken to the incinerator or brush burner. He said that in many cases residents have been under the false impression that it is helpful to burn material at the dump.

Five on Honors List. Five residents of Princeton are among the 268 seniors who received honors for distinguished academic work during their upperclass years. The number represents 42 percent of the Class of 1954, second highest percentage of any Princeton class singled out for academic distinction.

Those on the honors list made public by Howard W. Stepp, University Registrar, include Dieter R. Brill, 322 North Harrison Street, highest honors in physics, Thomas S. Godolphin, Joseph Henry House, high honors in English; Malcolm C. Peyton, Pretty Brook Road, highest honors in music; Shepherd D. Roberts, 155 Hodge Road, honors in biology, and Frank H. Wells, Constitution Hill, honors in English.

Library Issue Flares. The question of Princeton Theological Seminary's proposed new $1,500,000 library on the site of Lenox Library at Mercer Street and Library Place has returned to the news. The major developments:

The borough board of zoning adjustment declined the request of Mr. and Mrs. C. Reinold Noyes of Library Place for a re-hearing on the Seminary's application for zoning exceptions, which was granted in February.

J. Seymour Montgomery, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Noyes (whose residence is opposite the library site) announced that an appeal has been filed with Superior Court to review the exceptions granted by the board of adjustment.

Debate at the board meeting brought out the fact that the variances granted were on the condition that the trustees of Thomson Hall (which adjoins the site) grant an easement on a narrow strip of land to be kept permanently free of buildings so that the new library may meet rear yard requirements for unobstructed light and air.

The easement has not yet been obtained, Mr. Montgomery pointed out. In addition, the Noyes' appeal to Superior Court will probably not be taken up until late fall, so that final decision on the library question appears to be a considerable time off.

Mr. Montgomery also made public a letter from Dr. John A. Mackay, president of the seminary, stating that the future of Lenox Library has been referred to a special committee of the institution's trustees for consideration in September. The proposals of either razing or moving the 110-year old structure has provoked opposition in recent months.

Hardware Store Bought. Joseph E. Hensler of Cold Soil Road is president and treasurer of the new Lawrenceville Hardware Company, which has purchased the former Baldwin Hardware and Paint store in Lawrenceville. The firm is open under the new management on Main Street see page 17 for information on savings ranging up to 30%.

Mr. Hensler, who has had considerable experience in the hardware and appliance field, has been assigned franchises by Westinghouse, Philco, RCA-Victor, Pittsburgh Paint and other nationally-known manufacturers of hardware and household supplies. The firm's vice-president is Richard L. Adam of Chatham.

Mr. Hensler's brother, Fred Hensler, is associated with him in the sale of garden and horticulture supplies. A wide variety of plants, bulbs and perennials is offered. Free deliveries are made to the Princeton area.

ported this week that 1953 had been marked by record sales volume and a greater outlay for newspaper advertising than at any time in its history. The retail and mail order house said that its net sales volume was in excess of $2,900,000,000 and that it had spent more than $36,000,000 for space in daily and weekly newspapers throughout the nation.

Sears, which uses Town Topics exclusively for its Princeton Store at 71 Palmer Square, reported that 81% of its national advertising budget was allocated to newspapers. It used 1,020 dailies and weeklies throughout the U.S., increasing its budget with them last year by 6.4%.

Theological Institute Set. "Things that cannot be shaken" will be the theme of the annual Princeton Institute of Theology, which will be conducted here from July 12 to 22 under the auspices of Princeton Theological Seminary.

The institute will be opened by Bishop Stephen Neill of the staff of the World Council of Churches in Geneva. He will speak July 12 at 7:30 p.m. in Miller Chapel on the Seminary campus.

"The Church Breaks Through to the World" will be the general topic of a series of evening sermons given during the first week, while three noted clergymen will give evening sermons during the second week. The topics of the two Bible Convocations are "Christianity and Culture" and "The Christian Witness in Our Time."

The institute also includes elective classes in various subjects. Last year the institute attracted members from 32 denominations. Information on registration may be obtained from Dr. J. Christy Wilson, secretary.

Sportsmen's Club Elects. Joseph Nini has been re-elected president of the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club for the coming year. He will be in charge of a special meeting of officers and trustees this Thursday evening at 8 on the club grounds.

Other officers elected for 1954-55 are William Toto, first vice-president; Albert Venta, second vice-president; Nicholas Cifelli, corresponding secretary; Victor Carrazzai, financial secretary; John Ranallo, treasurer, and Agillie Ranallo, director of grounds.

Trustees of the club are Anthony Pisano, Peter Pinelli, John Di Donato, Clarence Di Donato, Angelo Nini Sr., John Pirone, D. Don Richards, Joseph Baldino and Mr. Venta.

Antonio Campo and John Maddalon have been elected to membership in the club. A limited number of new members will be accepted during the coming year. Application should be made to Mr. Nini at 187 Harrison Street or at the next regular meeting, scheduled for next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the club grounds, located at North Harrison Street and Journey's End Lane.

Turnpike Link Started. Ground breaking for the start of the bridge that will form the major part of the connecting link between the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Turnpikes has taken place. Direct connection of the two toll roads is scheduled for early in 1956.

The bridge joins Florence, N. J., and Edgely, Pa., across the Delaware River. The span will cost in excess of $3,685,000 and will provide for six lanes of traffic. It will be a mile and a quarter long.

Bank Aids Schools. Guided tours of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company and instruction in its operation were provided by the bank for school children of the Princeton community during the past year. Teachers accompanied their pupils as part of the educational program.

Mrs. Lilian V. S. Stout, assistant treasurer, conducted the tours, which included descriptions of procedures and demonstrations of equipment. George R. Cook, 3d, president of the bank, spoke to the visiting groups, outlining the responsibilities of the stockholders, directors and executives, and described the functions of the Trust Department.

Questionnaire Returns In. Congressman Charles R. Howell has reported the results of his sixth and final legislative questionaire as Representative of the Fourth Congressional District.

Over 35,000 questionaires were mailed to residents of the district and 3,850 replies have been returned to his office. Among the major findings:

- By an exact 2 to 1 margin, the voters favor the new U.S. military policy of main reliance on atomic weapons and air power and less on ground forces and conventional weapons.
- Strengthening of the United Nations into a limited world federation without authority in domestic affairs is supported by 72% of the replies, while 75% approve of the U.S. joining with other nations in pooling some non-military atomic data.

● Cooperation with Canada in the building of the St. Lawrence Seaway is supported by 84% of the voters; the questionnaires showed a 2 to 1 majority in favor of increased salaries for Congressmen, Senators and Federal Judges.

● Returns on the question of Federal support of farm prices showed 55% in favor of continuing them, but at a lower level; 25% for discontinuing, and 20% for continuing them at present levels. Opinion on Reciprocal Trade showed 78% in favor of changes permitting more trade between the U.S. and other countries; 18% for status quo, and 4% for decreased trade.

The three national problems most frequently mentioned in replies were: "1, disapproval of the tactics and effects of McCarthyism; 2, concern with unemployment and the threat of recession; 3, opposition to U.S. armed intervention in Indo-China."

Lions Auxiliary Elects. Mrs. Robert W. Mangold has been elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Lions Club, succeeding Mrs. Chester A. Page.

Mrs. Martin Mains, past president, also installed the following officers: Mrs. J. Richard Pelikan, vice-president; Mrs. Russell Bettes, secretary, and Mrs. Harold Frazee, treasurer. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Heinrich and concluded the organization's activities until next fall.

Mrs. Bettes received a commendation for her committee which assisted in the conduct of the recent Hospital Fete. It was announced that Miss Gladys Alden has been awarded the group's $1000 scholarship for a senior at the high school planning to enter the nursing profession.

Three Employees Honored. Following a custom established five years ago, three employees of Princeton University who have been with the University 25 years or longer last week received 25-year buttons from Edward A. MacMillan, superintendent of the department of grounds and buildings.

The awards were presented to John Gricer, a painter who started with the University in July, 1928; Frank Vreeland of Princeton Junction, a campus mailman since April 15, 1929, and William Reep, a janitor who joined the University staff one week after Mr. Vreeland.

Hadassah Elects. The Princeton Chapter of Hadassah has chosen officers and committee chairmen for the coming year, with Mrs. Thomas Stix named to head the organization.

Mrs. Edward Frieman will serve as vice-president in charge of program, while Mrs. Jay Berger will be vice-president in charge of membership. Other officers elected are Mrs. David Epstein, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Bardon, recording secretary, and Mrs. S. M. Scala, corresponding secretary.

Committee heads include: Mrs. Milton Horowitz, Hadassah Medical Organization; Mrs. Nathan Kasrel, medical center; Mrs. Irving Glassman, Youth Aliyah; Mrs. Leonard Hymerling, vocational education; Miss Alice Braveman, Jewish National Fund; Mrs. Mortimer Feldman, supplies; Mrs. Marver Bernstein, education; Mrs. Sidney Sternberg, publicity; Mrs. Arthur Weinberger, bulletin, and Mrs. Jacques Pankove, American affairs.

Marquand Park Open

Marquand Park, Princeton's largest public recreation site, is now open for use. The owners deeded a 17-acre tract from the former Marquand estate to the borough last year, and it has been made ready for the public by the Engineering Department.

A softball field is among the facilities, as are several pieces of apparatus for small children installed by the Playgrounds Committee. Picnic tables and park benches are available and may be used at any time. Groups planning to use the park for picnics and outings are asked to obtain advance permission from the office of the borough engineer, I. Russell Riker.

Princeton Camp Opens. The Princeton University Summer Camp's 41st season opened this week at the Blairstown location in the foothills of the Kittatinny Mountains. Some 275 teen-age boys from New York, Philadelphia, Newark and Princeton will spend two weeks at the camp during its four sessions.

Howard W. Stepp of Pretty Brook Road, University Registrar, is again serving as faculty director of the student-operated camp. John D'Arms of the Princeton-Kingston Road and Robert J. Rivers, Jr. of 21 Green Street are among the 16 members of the camp staff.

Miss Matticole Nominated. Miss Marian Matticole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Matticole of 64 Leigh Avenue, has been nominated by the press service of the U.S. Information Agency as a candidate for the agency's officer training program. The program is scheduled to begin shortly and will include domestic and international training assignments.

Miss Matticole is a staff writer for the Latin American Press Branch and is in charge of the cultural desk and women's news. A graduate of New Jersey College for Women, she has been with the agency for three years and has also worked for the State Department.

Playground Plans. George Sorenson of Patton Avenue, an Eagle scout, will offer instruction in many forms of camp lore at the William and Olden playground this summer. Scouts and other boys of the Princeton area are invited to discuss topics of mutual interest with him.

He will teach first aid, the art of fire building, knot-tying, erecting tents, building camp equipment and give assistance on taking merit badge tests. His instruction is part of the summer recreation program, now in full swing at four play centers and two wading pools. Playgrounds are open from 10 to 5 five days a week at the high school, Harrison Street and Witherspoon Street, as well as the William and Olden location.

The story-reading schedule announced this week calls for such a program on Tuesdays at 3 at the Pine Street wading pool and Witherspoon Street; at 3:30 at William and Olden and John Street; and 3:45 at Harrison Street and the high school. The Thursday program is 2:30 at Pine Street, 3 o'clock at John Street and 3:30 at Harrison Street.

Story-readers are Mrs. E. O. Keizer, Mrs. D. C. Augustine, Mrs. Ronald Rau, Mrs. John K. White, Mrs. Marshall Zittig, Mrs. Paul Rappaport, Mrs. Robert Stone, Mrs. M. H. Greenblatt and Mrs. Kurt Rosenblatt. Serving as substitutes are Mrs. A. H. Sommers, Mrs. R. A. Rogers, Mrs. G. T. Reynolds, Mrs. A. L. Kelser, Mrs. Willard Starks, Mrs. David Lloyd, 3d, Mrs. C. K. Morehouse, Mrs. Florence Seder, Mrs. F. Calvin Louderback, Mrs. Kenneth McLean, Mrs. M. L. Schultz, Mrs. Shepard Kimberly, 2d and Mrs. Gordon Griffin, the program director.

Picnic Sunday. The Princeton Jewish Center will hold its annual picnic Sunday, July 4, at 2 o'clock at Posner's Farm on the Hopewell-Woodsville Road. Swimming facilities are available and a supper of hot dogs, hamburgers, soft drinks and ice cream will be served. Open to the public, the picnic has an admission fee of $1 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Posner's Farm may be reached by driving to Hopewell, turning left at Worth's Market on Main Street and right on the Hopewell-Woodsville Road. The Posner Fram is a mile along this road. In the event of rain, the picnic will be held July 11.

Harvest Home Plans. Committee chairmen are active in planning for the Blawenburg Harvest Home dinner, scheduled for July 17 at the Reformed Church in that community. Louis Verheyst, one of three co-chairmen, has announced that a large tent will be provided for the occasion, with the first serving of the turkey and ham dinner scheduled for 4 p.m.

Among those aiding with the affair are Mrs. Eugene Piller, purchasing; Mrs. Albert Van Zandt, soliciting; Marvin Hunt, grounds; and Mrs. J. Percy Van Zandt, tickets. Music by the Hopewell Valley Band and games and hay rides for children are on the program.

Exchange Tuition. The Board of Trustees of Princeton has approved participation by the University in the Faculty Children's Exchange Tuition Plan now in effect in some 70 private, liberal arts colleges and universities.

Under the plan, sons and daughters of eligible members of the staff may apply for admission to any of the participating institutions and receive a remission of tuition, subject to certain provisions, the most immediate of which is meeting the entrance requirements of the college to which they apply.

Princeton's participation will become effective next fall for undergraduate students already enrolled in or entering a participating college. Benefits will be available to children of professors and associate professors on regular tenure, administrative personnel of equivalent rank and all other full-time personnel who have been with the University for three years or more.

For the Record

The newspaper stories and magazine articles by the late Bernard Peyton, Jr. are now available in book form. A staff writer for the New York Herald Tribune and a contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, Mr. Peyton lost his life with his mother in a plane crash off Rhode Island a year ago.

The feature stories for which he had already become well known at the time of his death at age 24 cover many unusual and colorful events that occurred in the New York metropolitan area. The profusely-illustrated book, priced at $3.50, may be purchased at the Princeton University Store. Proceeds will benefit the Princeton University Summer Camp, subject of one of Mr. Peyton's best articles in the Saturday Evening Post.

We hope you will not be inconvenienced but we will be on vacation between July 4 and July 12

NOT A SIT-DOWN STRIKE BUT A SIT-DOWN BAND: The parade marking the annual inspection of the Princeton Fire Department was enlivened last week by the Hobo Band from Pitman. Typical of its members' unorthodox way of taking part in a parade was this impromptu concert, staged in leisurely fashion at the corner of Nassau and Moore Streets. The "hoboes" provided music for the Hook and Ladder and Chemical Engine Company, which led the fire department to the inspection site at William Street and Olden Avenue.

Against Multiple Scelerosis. Plans for the formation of a Princeton chapter of the National Scelerosis Society have been announced here. Interested persons have been asked to contact Mrs. James A. Arnold Jr. (tel. 3339) or Mrs. Alvan Campbell Jr., 724 Lawrenceville Road, Trenton 8.

Thirty sufferers with multiple scelerosis have already been located in the Princeton area. The disense attacks the central nervous system and usually results in partial or complete paralysis. Victims are slowly forced to drop away from their normal activities, often causing disturbing emotional and economic problems for them and their families.

The National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness has estimated that there are approximately 300,000 persons in this country today with chronic multiple scelerosis and related diseases, compared to 250,000 persons suffering from the after effects of polio. Fewer persons die each year from acute polio.

The National Multiple Scelerosis Society was formed to encourage research into the cause and control of the disease. Local chapters such as the proposed Princeton group are designed to aid patients in meeting their problems and to spread wider understanding of the disease.

The Princeton chapter will aim at providing service for MS patients, arranging social gatherings for patients who are not shut in, regular visits by chapter members, and informing the general public of the nature, prevalence and importance of the disease and the needs of those who suffer from it. In addition, the chapter will attempt to utilize the resources of the community for physical therapy and rehabilitation.

ACROSS THE COUNTER

"I'm baffled and confused," said Mr. Martin. "I want to have enough fire insurance on my house because I know it is foolish to take any of the risk myself. It costs so little. But, I don't want too much either. Could you come out and help me?"

"Sure," I said. "One of our services is to inspect your property. We are glad to help you arrive at the amount of insurance you need. This is a free service, but it has been quite valuable to many property owners."

Regardless of the type of property you own—whether it be a home, business building, farm, motel, or other types—we would like to assist you too. Every property is different. But we are experienced in sizing up insurance requirements of all kinds of property.

Your own best interest, as well as ours, is served if you have the proper amount of insurance. Not too little, nor too much.

So, take advantage of our Free Inspection Service. Telephone 0400 for an appointment.

Truly Heart-Warming!

FROM THE HEART OF THE EARTH

You'll enjoy thoroughly this collection of newspaper stories and magazine articles by the late Bernard Peyton, Jr. Now privately printed in book form, they represent the journalistic artistry he spun as a staff writer for The New York Herald Tribune and a contributor to The Saturday Evening Post.

In four brief years before his death last spring in a plane crash, Bernie Peyton had become particularly noted for fine feature writing. His interview subjects ranged from grim-faced Andrei Vishinsky, to a lady barber who inquired about his insurance while shaving him, to a five-year old's dreams of Santa Claus and the Christ Child.

Widely illustrated, the stories and articles are blessed with a timeless touch that will make them delightful, heart-warming reading through the years. The Herald-Tribune said of him:

"He never forgot he was writing about people and for people; his own humanity and humor, together with his ability to use words intelligently and artistically, made his by-line a promise of something worth reading."

The New Jersey Poll

ACCIDENT AT SOME TIME WHILE AT WHEEL RECORD OF ONE DRIVER IN FIVE

With the long July Fourth weekend expected to exact its customary toll of accidents, injury and death, the New Jersey Poll has collected some facts for drivers to keep in mind when they ride on the highways over the coming holidays.

1. The driver of every fifth car on the road has had an automobile accident while he was at the wheel.
2. A higher proportion of men than women drivers have had an accident while driving, and somewhat more younger drivers than older ones have been in accidents.
3. More than one out of every four drivers in the state, or 26 per cent, has driven a car 75 miles an hour at some time or other.
4. And one out of every ten drivers admits to driving 95 miles an hour or more on open highways, with 112 miles an hour being top speed named.

That's what New Jersey Poll reporters found after talking personally with a representative cross-section of the state's adults in every section of the state. Today's Poll first asked each person: "What is the fastest speed you have ever driven a car?"

Here are the replies of the 69 percent who drive or have driven:

45 mph or less	15%
46 to 54 mph	13
55 to 64 mph	27
65 to 74 mph	19
75 to 84 mph	9
85 to 94 mph	7
95 mph or more	10

The above figures do not necessarily mean that car operators always drive as fast as the top speed mentioned. But they do show that many motorists feel the urge to see how fast their cars can go.

A total of 31%, or roughly one million adults, stated that they had never driven a car. Fifteen percent of the men have never been at the wheel, compared to 45 percent of the women.

A second question was asked of all those who drive:

"Have you ever been in any accident while you were driving?"

	Yes	No
Statewide	22%	78
Men	26%	74
Women	16%	84
21-29 years	26%	74
30-44 years	21%	79
45 & over	19%	81

Over the years, New Jersey Poll surveys have found widespread popular sentiment in favor of measures to control accidents and speeding. In 1952, 64% voted to require jail terms for drivers found guilty of driving while drunk.

In 1950, 67% said they would be willing to have a governor (regulator) put on their cars that would let them drive no faster than 50 miles per hour at any time. In that same year, 50 miles per hour was the median average figure named by drivers when they were asked what they themselves thought should be the maximum (top) speed for automobiles on open highways.

And in 1949, 83% of the New Jersey public voted that accident-prone drivers should be required to take special driving examinations and apply for new drivers' licenses.

Auto drivers on the road this holiday weekend would also do well to remember these additional

Obituaries

Edward M. Earle, 60, of 101 Battle Road, died June 23 at the Hospital for Special Surgery, New York. For the past two decades, he had been a professor of history at the Institute for Advanced Study and was widely known in his field as an author and lecturer.

A graduate of Columbia University, Dr. Earle began his career in banking but joined his alma mater's faculty in 1920. He taught there for 14 years before coming here to join the Institute.

He saw service during both World Wars, in the first as an Army lieutenant and in the second with the Office of Strategic Services and the AAF overseas. He was decorated by both the American and French governments for his achievements, while in the academic world he had received honorary degrees from Union College, Colgate, Columbia and Princeton Universities.

His wife, the former Beatrice Lowndes, and a daughter, Miss Rosamond Earle of Washington, survive.

Mrs. Anna M. Johnson, 71, of 22 Quarry Street, died June 23 at her home. She was a life-long resident of this community.

Her husband, Luther Johnson of Newark, survives her. The funeral at the Mt. Pisgah AME Church was followed by burial in Princeton Cemetery.

facts. In 1953, in the nation as a whole, more than 38,000 people died and more than 300,000 people were seriously injured as a result of auto accidents.

Indo-China Entry Opposed. New Jersey public opinion today is overwhelmingly opposed to sending American soldiers to fight in Indo-China.

Results of the latest New Jersey Poll, completed last week, show that seven out of every ten voters across the state are opposed to the idea of sending American soldiers to take part in the fighting in Indo-China. Only about one in five says he would approve.

In other words, those who are opposed to sending American soldiers to fight in Indo-China outnumber by a margin of better than three to one those who would favor such action.

When New Jersey Poll staff reporters asked a representative cross-section of the state's voters:

"The United States is now sending war materials to help the French fight the Communists in Indo-China. Would you approve or disapprove of sending U. S. soldiers to take part in the fighting there?"

These were the results:

Approve	21%
Disapprove	70
No opinion	9

Four months ago in Mid-February—the vote on the same question was approve, 12%; disapprove, 83%; no opinion, 5%. Today's findings thus represent a 9% increase in approval, and a 13% decrease in disapproval since the previous survey.

Princeton Girls at Wilson. Miss Roberta M. Angas, 59 College Road West, daughter of Vice Admiral William M. and the late Mrs. Angas, has been elected chairman of the freshman orientation committee at Wilson College for the coming academic year.

She has also been named assistant photography editor of the college yearbook, a member of the student council, a member of the student committee on academic affairs and a member of the Wilson Athletic Association executive board.

Miss Iola Applegate, 34 Maple Street, has been elected treasurer of the Wilson French Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Applegate.

Everline Scholarship. A campaign has been started by Princeton University undergraduates to create a memorial scholarship in honor of the late Miss Dorothy E. Everline, assistant director of the Bureau of Student Aid and Employment at the time of her sudden death last fall.

The student committee is asking for contributions from undergraduates and alumni who have been registered with the Bureau, most of whom Miss Everline came in contact with during 20 years at the University. The scholarship will be given to a senior who has actively advanced the work, standards and reputation of undergraduate student aid.

New Director for Wilson School. Dr. Stephen Bailey, Associate Professor of Government at Wesleyan College, has been appointed Director of the Graduate Program in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. His appointment, with the rank of professor, will be effective next fall. He will fill a position vacant since the death last year of Dr. Donald H. Wallace.

In making the announcement, President Harold W. Dodds said that Dr. Bailey has also been appointed to the William Church Osborn Professorship of Public Affairs, created in honor of Mr. Osborn, a member of the class of '83, a charter trustee for 28 years and one of the organizers of the Woodrow Wilson School. Professor Wallace also held this chair.

Dr. Bailey is mayor of Middletown, Conn., having been elected on the Democratic ticket for a two-year term in October, 1952. He will complete his term, which expires October 4. He is also an author, former staff associate of the Hoover Commission, and staff director of the Connecticut State Government Reorganization Commission.

Academic Director Named. Dr. Edward J. Henneberry has been appointed to the position of Academic Director of the Columbus Boychoir School, Dr. Charles R. Erdman, president of the board of trustees, has announced.

Dr. Henneberry is at present headmaster of the Peekskill Military Academy at Peekskill, New York. He has had over 25 years experience in the field of education from the elementary level through college. He has been a teacher of piano, choral and instrumental groups and holds a diploma from the New England Conservatory of Music, in addition to his academic degrees.

Mrs. Geraline Henneberry, his wife, will join the staff of the school as instructor in the lower grades. She holds degrees from Columbia University.

News of the Theatres

MURRAY THEATRE

"Camino Real," the opening production of the University Players' season, continues through this Saturday evening at air-conditioned Murray Theatre on the Princeton University Campus. The box office is open nightly and the telephone number is 3539.

Luigi Pirandello's comedy "Right You Are" (with the subtitle "If You Think You Are") will be the next attraction, opening Monday for a week. The comedy is one of the brightest offerings by the Italian writer whose "Six Characters in Search of an Author" and "Henry IV" have found their way into many a modern repertory.

AT MURRAY THEATRE. Mario Siletti, a promising member of the University Players' Company, will be seen in a leading role of Pirandello's "Right You Are," opening Monday for a week.

"Right You Are" depicts the curiosity of the Agazzi family and other inhabitants of a small Italian town towards the activities of three newcomers to the village. Pirandello plays with the idea of searching for scandal and calling it "truth" and the entire question of what is "truth" in any human relationship.

The "persecuted" trio will be played by Mario Siletto, Lola D'Annunzio as his mother, and Etienne Sturhahn as his wife. Philip Minor will portray the philosopher whose wry comments frame the play, while George Petrarca will play the head of the inquisitive household. The comedy will be under the direction of Bill Butler.

"Camino Real" was indeed a tremendous challenge to the Players as an opener and it was met more than handsomely. The play was beautifully mounted and paced.

A fairly constant comment about the Tennessee Williams' work was, "But it isn't like Shakespeare." To which the answer is, "Of course it isn't. Nothing is." Williams has yet to show that he is a great thinker, but "Camino Real" is his way of painting the world as he sees it.

It isn't too pretty a world. It includes, among others, the foolish, the depraved, the stupid, the innocent, the brutal, the powerful, the discouraged, the disillusioned, and happily, the amusing. This shouldn't really be news in this day and age, but the way Williams puts matters seems to alarm a lot of people.

Humanity's language isn't too pleasant at times, and human understanding usually non-existent or worse. Williams says that people are afraid of reality and of the great unknown beyond the treadmill world, the camino of everyday life. It's worth thinking about.

Aside from a number of generally frowned-upon expressions and the suggestion that not all life is conducted with high moral tone, Williams has a slick coating for his play. He has broken up the surface of plot and dramatic form in "Camino Real," but this shouldn't be too difficult for anyone with even the faintest knowledge of first-rate modern fiction, painting or music.

He can, however, have a great deal of fun with words, ideas and situations. "Camino" is full of literary allusions, but they don't go too deep. Actually, the opening night audience seemed to find many delightfully witty as well as effective lines to enjoy.

The Players cut liberally, and combined with the agile direction by Edward Horner, this seemed to be a benefit. The players showed they have direction, spirit and a company which is even better than last year's. They also had another of Hugh Hardy's magnificent sets.

It's a pleasure to report that no one was "bad" in the large cast. Rather, Mario Siletti, Monroe Wade, Lola D'Annunzio and George Petrarca were exceptional, and Ronald Harper, Phillip Minor, Pat Crawford and Barbara Wersha more than adequate in the major roles. It was a good night for all, however, individually and as a company.

"Camino Real" is undeniably tough play-going, but an effort at both enjoying and understanding Williams is really worth it. The University Players made it more so with a strong production that launches what promises to be another fine season.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

"My Three Angels" starring Jerome Cowan will continue through Saturday at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. The hit comedy of last season on Broadway will also have a Saturday matinee. Other featured members of the cast are David Leland, Jack Cassidy, Joseph Graham, Judith Elder and Gisella Orkin.

"Fanny's First Play" by George Bernard Shaw will open on Monday for a run of a week. The playful satire of theatre critics, women's rights, romance and the British character in general will be the fifth production of the Bucks season.

The play made its London debut in 1911 and ran for a total of 622 performances, the longest run that any Show play has ever had in England. It opened on Broadway in 1912 for a run of 256 performances, the American record for G. B. S. until Maurice Evans' production of "Man and Superman" several years ago.

The comedy is written as a play-within-a-play, so that the theatre critics can work over the play and each other. The cast at New Hope is headed by Nydia Westman, Philip Bourneuf, Jerome Cowan, Gisella Orkin, Terence Kilburn and Delores Mann.

Incidentally, the showplace Playhouse Inn has opened up right next to the theatre. The $500,000 structure is designed for year-round operation and has a handsome view overlooking the Delaware River. Opened by Monte Proser, the Inn has a wide variety of dining rooms and lounges and a host of other features.

IN SHAW COMEDY: Nydia Westman will be seen in "Fanny's First Play," opening Monday at the Bucks County Playhouse.

MUSIC CIRCUS

"Carousel" is the present tenant at the Music Circus in Lambertville, running through this Sunday evening. Victor Herbert's "The Red Mill" moves in on Tuesday for a run through Sunday, July 11.

"Carousel" was a complete sell-out during the first week at Lambertville, where it has always been a major hit. Heading the cast for the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical play are Peggy Bonini, William C. Johnson, Dorothy MacFarland, Donald Clarke and Lorraine Bridges.

GRIST MILL PLAYHOUSE

If you're heading upstate on Route 206 some evening, the Grist Mill Playhouse in Andover has opened up for an 11-week season. The attraction now on the boards is "My Three Angels," which looks like a run-away for the summer's "most-produced" play.

Starting Monday, the Grist Mill will offer "The Boys From Syracuse" by Rodgers and Hart. Patricia Wilkes will have the musical lead. The production follows a regular schedule of Monday through Saturday, with a Wednesday matinee.

The remainder of the schedule: July 12, "Private Eye"; 19, "Walk Tall"; 26, "Paris '90"; August 2, "The Bandwagon"; 9, "Apple of His Eye"; 16, "The Little Hut"; 23, "Wish You Were Here." The two final productions are not yet decided.

THE PLAYHOUSE

(The Garden has closed down for the summer. Following renovations and a change of screen, the theatre will re-open on September 6.)

Johnny Guitar (Thurs.-Sat.) departs from the usual Western formula in several respects, chiefly that the conflict is between two women. They are Joan Crawford, as a casino owner backing railroaders, and Mercedes McCambridge, a banker's sister who's backing the ranchers. Sterling Hayden is a cool ex-gunfighter, and others in the cast include Scott Brady and Ward Bond. Well put together. Trucolor.

Knock on Wood (Sun.-Sat.) is the latest package of laughter produced by the great funny man, Danny Kaye. For a change, it's all his own material, done just the way he wants it and the results are wonderful. He runs from the clever to the farcial with the accustomed Kaye skill.

The plot defies rational synopsis, naturally. Kaye is a two-dummy ventroloquist who gets mixed up with a lady psychiatrist and international plotters. The Technicolor film has room for the star to sing some clever Sylvia Fine songs and dance some Michael Kidd dances.

Dinner and the Theater...

What a wonderful way to break away for an evening from the ordinary affairs of life! How pleasant such an occasion is . . . for you and several of your friends, or sometimes "just for two."

There's a fine play billed for nearby Murray Theatre every night, Monday through Saturday, by the University Players. Why not plan now to make it a wonderful evening by having a delicious dinner first at the Inn?

Come back after the show, too. The bar in our spacious Cocktail Lounge is ready to serve you until midnight.

Sports in Princeton

Princeton A. C. Wins Again. A two-hit, 6-0 shutout of the Hopewell Raiders in the second meeting between the two teams last week gave the Princeton A.C. victory in its second Tri-County Baseball League contest. The first session between the two outfits had resulted in a 4-2 triumph for Princeton.

Player-manager Chick Davis was the winning hurler in the second game, played Friday night at Hopewell. He was in complete control, going as far as the third batter in the fifth inning before yielding a hit. Both of the safeties charged against him were of the infield variety.

Chick walked only two and fanned nine in recording the whitewash. No runner got beyond second, as good fielding helped him hold Hopewell scoreless. Tom Smith's running catch of a line drive in left field was the top defensive play.

Bob Dennen, who caught for Davis, was the big gun at the plate, driving in three runs with a pair of hits. The P.A.C. collected a total of seven, all of them singles.

Del Wible, lead hitter in the current lineup, opened the game with a single to center. Ray Davis sacrificed, Bill Rodefeld's infield out sent him to third and Walt Wells' single to left brought him across the plate.

Smith completed the circuit in the next round when he walked, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on successive fielder's choices. Clusters of two runs in the fourth and fifth then gave the victors a wide margin.

Bob Dennen's bloop single to right scored one run in the fourth and Chick Davis chased another across with a sacrifice fly to center. In the fifth, the Princetonians opened with a single by Bob Montgomery, a walk to Smith and a sacrifice by Bruce Dennen. Twin-brother Bob then drove both runners across with his second timely hit.

The score by innings:

Princeton	110	220	0—6	7	1
Hopewell	000	000	0—0	2	1

Davis and Bob Dennen; Edwards and Hoagland.

The P.A.C. batting order: Del Wible, 2b; Ray Davis, rf; Bill Rodefeld, 3b; Walt Wells, 1b; Bob Montgomery, ss; Tom Smith, lf; Bruce Dennen, cf; Bob Dennen, c; Chick Davis, p. Pat Tidey pinch hit in the seventh for Bruce Dennen.

Plenty of Action. Three games were on the P.A.C. schedule this week. Lamhertville, which edged Montgomery, 6-5, in the other Tri-County League opener last week, was slated to come to Brokaw Field Wednesday. A non-league affair is scheduled for this Thursday night against the Ewing Athletic Club, an independent Mercer County team. Game time is 6:15.

Another trip to Hopewell is set for Friday night, with the three contests on successive evenings a solid test for the team's pitching staff. Montgomery will come in Tuesday, July 6, for its first game in the league against Princeton, while a trip to Lambertville is scheduled for Friday, July 9.

Holiday Doubleheader Planned. Arrangements were being made this week for a holiday doubleheader, scheduled for Monday afternoon, July 5. The first game is set for 1:30 on Brokaw Field.

All four teams in the Playground League will be in action in the opener. The Princeton A.C. will play in the second game, probably against an independent team from New Brunswick.

The winner of the 1953 Junior League title will play each of the other three entries in the playground circuit two innings apiece in the first game Monday. The teams this season are sponsored by L.C. Bowers & Sons, Matthews Construction Co., Borden's and Nassau Oil.

Play began this week on Brokaw Field and will continue four evenings a week until August. Boys 15 and under are eligible.

Louis Cardinals have announced that they will hold tryouts for all interested young baseball players at Hetzel Field, Trenton, next week. They will begin at 10 a.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 8, 9 and 10.

Three Redbird scouts, Bennie Borgmann, Frank Crespi and Hal Olt, will conduct the trials. Players 17 to 23 are eligible, and those who attend should bring a glove, shoes and a uniform, if they have one. Bats, balls and catching equipment will be provided.

Crespi, who came from the St. Louis sandlots to play with the Cards in the 1942 World Series which they took from the Yankees, said that the tryouts are planned to uncover players for the Cardinals' farm system. One of the first developed in the big leagues, it is now composed of 22 clubs in every classification. The teams are active in 15 states and two foreign countries.

If selected, players will have a chance to sign a professional contract with the Cards and will be assigned to one of the farm teams. The tryouts are conducted with the goal of development of future big league stars through training and experience in the farm system.

Captains Elected. In addition to John Easton, whose election to captaincy of the Princeton baseball team was announced last month, five others have been named to lead their Orange and Black outfits next spring.

Tony Robinson will captain the crew, Willis Mills the golf team and Ted Rogers the tennis team. Joe Myers, a good quarter-miler and member of the mile relay team which set an indoor record for Princeton last winter, is the 1955 track captain.

Bob Russell has been named to head the lacrosse team next spring. He'll see action before that as a wingback on the football team in the fall.

Kraus Colgate Co-Captain. Leonard F. Kaus, Jr. of 42 Harris Road has been elected co-captain of the Colgate University baseball team for 1955. Named with him was outfielder Bruce Dursema of Waldwich, N. J.

Second baseman for the Red Raiders, Kraus received honorable mention on the District 2 All-Star team selected by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. A junior, he has had three years of varsity experience at Colgate.

Tennis Under Way. Ten girls and 14 boys began play Monday in the Junior Singles Tennis Tournament, under sponsorship of the Princeton Playgrounds Committee. Matches are being held each afternoon at 5 on the Princeton University courts.

Neither of the 1953 champions is eligible to defend the title they won last summer. Miss Ellen Kerney and Richard Lanahan are past the age limit.

Seeking the girls' crown are Susan Kinnell, Erna Arnold, Martha Raubinger, Priscilla Muller, Janet Ufert, Barbara Dilley, Esther Musselman, Lannie Johnson, Dolores Plum and Helen Wilmerding.

The boys who entered are Peter Lappan, Robert Thomas, Stephen Lockwood, Peter Epstein, Robert Cox, John Thompson, Ron Trossbach, Fritz Marston, Benny Hubby, John Clark, George Griggs, Davis Young, Sam Payne and Grenville Cuyler.

Entries are now being accepted for the four other tournaments to be conducted this summer under the Playground Committee's direction. They are supervised by C. Edward Christian, with Richard Lanahan as assistant tournament manager.

The men's singles will begin Wednesday. Women's singles play starts Monday, July 12, with men's doubles on July 19. The final event, mixed doubles, is slated for July 28.

Entries may be made through the YMCA office (3630) or by calling Lanahan (0789). Adults are asked to pay a 50c fee and to contribute three new balls.

Short Notes. Pablo Eisenberg, 1954 tennis captain, reached the semi-finals of the State tennis championships before being eliminated last week.

Tony Robinson, crew captain-elect, is in England for the annual regatta at Henley. Princeton's Ivy Club will be represented by a four-oared shell in which he will row. Princeton's 150-lb. crew went last July as national champions, losing in the semi-finals of the race for the Grand Challenge Cup.

Competition against Oxford-Cambridge teams is a part of the past in Princeton athletics. Penn has replaced the Tigers as Cornell's "sister college" in track competition. Harvard and Yale are sending a combined tennis team abroad to play the two English colleges, but Princeton is not involved in this sport, either. It's a matter of finances as far as the Tigers are concerned.

Metal garden furniture is light enough to carry over the widest acreage. An aluminum chair has a woven saran seat for $12.95. If it gets in the way of muddy feet, brush it with soap and water and its bright green and beige will return.

A lawn chaise has an innerspring mattress upholstered in red or green sailcloth. The chaise adjusts to three positions and may be moved about on its large wheels. For $49.50.

A metal table for the garden has a top that comes off to serve as a tray. A good-sized tray, too—about 15 by 24 inches. You have a choice of three or four colors and two styles. Write a check for $6.95.

New Kit Bag. A man who has ideas about travel this summer would certainly respond to a new fitted kit for sale at Thorne's, 168 Nassau. It measures about eight by ten inches, and its outside resembles an alligator in a deep brown mood.

Inside—the name of the kit, by the way, is "National Brands"—inside is a small package of every man's toilet article you ever heard of: Pepsodent, Gillette, Odorno, Chapstick—they are all represented. Here in small packages are suds for washing out socks, razor, blades, bandages, vaseline, hair tonic. There are probably even more that we can't remember.

Ladies' kits are rather more on the dainty side with a small, compact look about them. Fitted ones are $1.98 to $4.98 with plastic bottles. One has clear plastic clothes hangers. These kits are zippered or snapped; plain or plaid; handled or pouched.

Helena Rubinstein has a new product called Nudit to remove facial hair. It comes in a tube and costs $1.25. Another larger, and presumably stronger depilatory is made for legs and arms. It costs the same.

Max Factor tackles the problem of circles under the eye and comes out with Erace—a lipstick-like cream that will hide anything. It is said to conceal wrinkles, blemishes, those circles we mentioned above, freckles and anything else you don't happen to like on your face. You apply it before make-up, over the entire area. In its lipstick container, for $1.75.

For summer vacationers; Revlon packs its shampoos in a plastic bottle. These shampoos come in several varieties, one for dry hair, one for oily; one for bleached and one for normal, but what woman would admit to a normal head of hair?

Elizabeth Arden offers you a bargain: buy her Blue Grass cologne and receive, free, the Puff-Puff dusting powder. All for $2.

We hesitate to recommend this because in unscrupulous hands it's a hydrogen bomb (two parts hydrogen, that is; one part oxygen). The Ammo Water Gun costs 39c and seems to come in two parts—gun and separate tank. This tank, says the description, will hold a full day's supply of ammo. Not around our house, it wouldn't. Last maybe half an hour.

Now you're on your own.

Family in the Swim. You can put everybody in a bathing suit with one shopping stop: at Wolman's, 27 Witherspoon. Women's suits here are $5.98 and up. Most are one-piece Latex, and they go all the way to size 44—hard to find sometimes. Men's trunks are $2.98, boys' are $1.49 to $1.98.

A child's denim playsuit would be practical for a vacation in the wilds, or for play on cool days. It's light brown with knit rib in brown and white at jacket cuffs, neckband and down the front. Cap and slacks complete the set.

Women's rayon pajamas (nylon too, if you like) come in plain pink or blue. An embroidered pagoda brightens the left pocket.

A nylon gown (pastels) has an attractive price tag: $4.98. A deep yoke with embroidery marks the top. Pajamas in broadcloth are done with a small print and a narrow mandarin collar for only $2.98.
